

Harvest

Harvest been a real joy this year.

The Sunday service was followed by a generous Ploughman's lunch of cheeses, salads and fresh baked bread, followed by desserts. Most people didn't make it as far as the coffee and biscuits.

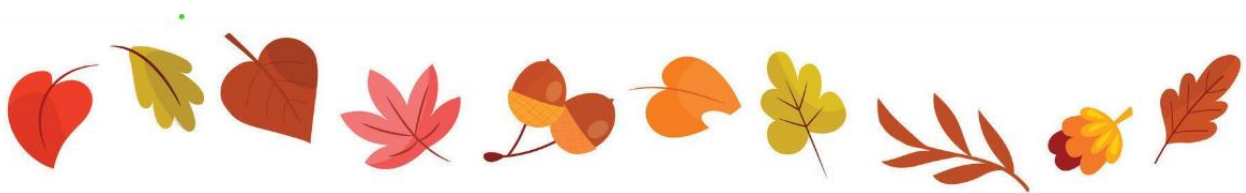

People had brought food donations on the Saturday and Sunday mornings and donations were even more generous than last year. The morning offering and profit from the lunch came to £143, both of which also went to the Aylesbury Foodbank.

The foodbank sent two people to come and talk to us about what they do and what they need. That included sanitary items and little extras like breadsticks, things that are beyond just pasta and tinned survival food.

It also became obvious that they have a very lean period over the summer months, when donations drop but the need does not.

It has yet to be discussed and agreed, but the suggestion has been made that we arrange another food collection in July to help towards filling the gap. Whether you are part of the Chapel or not, please contact John Beer or one of the Deacons if you can help.

We can't possibly plug the gap on our own, but small gifts from us can still make big differences to others if we join and work together. Food parcels don't just stay hunger. They show that someone cares.

Autumn Sale

Our Autumn sale will be on Saturday 24th October and there will be some winter flowering pansies and other indoor and outdoor plants, along with a selection of crafts, jams, preserves, marmalades, cakes, and chutneys. The 'Win every go' tombola will return along with a raffle and refreshments.

And a prayer just for you

May the light of God's smile be always warm on your face, light without and light within.

May stranger and friend feel that warmth in your grace, light without and light within.

May there always be work for your hands to do.

May your purse always hold a coin or two.

May the Son of God always bless you.

And the Spirit of God say AMEN too.

Amen, Amen to you.
